Description:

Max is a dog who lives with his owner in New York City. His owner's name is Katie. He has friends that are pets of other owners in the city. One day Katie brings another dog home. Max doesn't like to have to share everything with Duke, especially Katie. Until Duke and Max get lost and become friends.

Favorite or Least Favorite Part:

My favorite is the part where Max and Duke go into a sauge factory and have dreams of the sauces. They get lost into the smell of sauces and find themselves eating sauces.
