I really enjoy this website. I already am taking french classes in school but this is a great way to refresh on the tiny thing that fall though the cracks. Also its a great way to learn other languages if you are planning on using them i the future. For example it is great when you are looking for a job and you know another language besides English. I enjoyed how they let you record your self and see how it sound with the proved audio. I also like how they go through things with you and there is always a person there to help and guide you along in your path. I really like this, its fun and easy to use
